

Students Register University Will Award Degrees As Finals Near To 45 Mid-year Grads Jan. 27

Omaha University students are counting on successful outcome in their final exams. Registration for next semester's classes reached a total of 1,343 Wednesday noon, which will give a promising boost to enrollment, according to Miss Alice Smith, registrar.

Students now enrolled in the University took advantage of the early registration period to complete their forms and confer with their counselors. Students who did not register this week must wait until late registration Jan. 29 and 30. New students will also register at this time.

"Careful consideration in making out schedules would save time for the counselor, student, and our office," Miss Smith said. She expects a high enrollment due to more veterans returning to civilian life. Last semester 1,874 students were enrolled in day school.

Noon, Jan. 31, is the deadline for paying tuition fees. A late fee of $3 will be charged during the first week of the second semester, increasing a dollar a week thereafter. Second semester classes will begin Monday, Feb. 2.

First semester final examinations will begin Thursday at 8 a. m. The exam schedule is listed above. Professors must turn final grades into the Registrar by Feb. 4.

Feature Writers Reach 'Big Time'

Journalism students have hit the big time.

Their feature stories have either been printed or accepted for publication nationally. The students who have seen their bylines in print are Amos Turnbow and Joanne Larkin.

Turnbow wrote the "Death of a Nebraska Lake" in the World-Herald Magazine section, and Miss Larkin's feature on the "Angel's Flight" has appeared in the Air Force Times.

Bob Rasmussen, Bill Osick, Mary Ann Conley and Burt McMillan have received written assurance that their articles will be printed in the near future.

University Honors Airmen Friday

More than 80 airmen and officers from Offutt Air Force Base will be honored at an evening dinner and convocation next Friday. Those honored will have completed a minimum of 15 hours in classes at the University or at the University-sponsored classes at Offutt Field.

The dinner will be in the Faculty Clubroom with the convocation at 8 p. m. in the auditorium. A reception will follow the program.

Col. J. M. Barber, chief of the Air Force Information and Education Branch, Personnel Service Division, will be principal speaker.

The Colleges of Applied Arts and Sciences and Adult Education are co-directors of the Offutt classes.

Students: Report To Sociology Prof.

Sociology instructor Max N. Burchard urges all students "planning to go into the field of social work, or to attend a graduate school of social work" to report to him.

Students may see Burchard in Room 221A to discuss their undergraduate programs.

Newsman To Speak At Baxter Lectures

A member of the Washington Bureau of the New York Times will be the tenth annual Baxter lecturer. James Barrett Reston will lecture Feb. 26 and 27.

A native of Scotland, Reston joined the London Bureau of the Times in 1939. He had lived in the United States since 1920. He was educated in Dayton, Ohio, and graduated from the University of Illinois.

Judges Will Announce Leads Today for Musical Comedy

Leads for Omaha U's first Broadway musical comedy will be announced today by Dr. Edwin L. Clark, dramatics professor and one of the three advisers for the production. The musical comedy will be presented Feb. 20 and 21.

Tryouts for the production were held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the auditorium. Dr. Clark and the other two faculty advisers, Dr. Robert Flester and Richard Brewer, directed the tryouts.

Three Students Judge
Assisting in the judging were three senior Student Council members, Syntha Judd, Irv Jones and Marilyn Sibert.

The tryouts were for student novelty acts, which will be worked into the framework of the Broadway show, "Anything Goes." The play, which is in two acts, was written by Cole Porter.

The general framework of the comedy follows the efforts of Billy Crocker to woo and win Miss Hope Harcourt. Billy originally comes aboard a ship destined for England to wish his employer bon voyage.

Arduous Plot
To his surprise, he finds that Hope and her fiancé, Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, and Hope's mother are also making the trip to England. Billy finds himself suddenly out of a job, so decides to take the trip himself.

His error is in accepting a ticket from Dr. Rev. Moon, who is really a notorious criminal in disguise. Billy then becomes mistaken for Moon's accomplice; and

Night School Offers New Adult Classes

Fourteen new classes will be offered for the first time in night school when second semester classes begin Feb. 2.

Under Business Administration, the Human Relations course, a self-analysis of individual study habits and vocational choices, will be presented. In the field of foreign languages, Beginning Hebrew is offered. The course will include elementary conversation, reading and writing as well as the essentials of grammar.

A general survey course of Biology will be taught two days a week. Planning, purchase and preparation of all types of meals; kitchen planning, household sanitation and purchase and use of household equipment and appliances will be presented in the Home Management course.

The Journalism department is offering a course of School Paper Supervision for Teachers. Students will get practical experience working on the Adult Education newspaper. Three Religion courses will be offered. They are New Testament, Old Testament and Comparative Religion.

A survey course of the field of Anthropology, covering the organic nature of man, his origin, physical characteristics, and race differences will be covered in the General Anthropology course.

Two new music courses being offered are Choral Techniques, designed for the director of the volunteer choir, and College of Adult Education Choir, an opportunity for men and women to continue music interests. The elements of the theater will be taught in the Play Production course.

Forty-five University students will be honored at a dinner Tuesday, Jan. 27. The University auditorium will be the scene of a dinner and informal graduation ceremonies for mid-year graduates.

Seniors Return Proof

Barbara Frederiksen, editor of the senior section of the Tomahawk, requests that all students turn in proofs of their graduation pictures by 3 p. m. Monday. The proofs may be left at the Tomahawk office in the Student Publications quarters.

Press Day Offers Displays, Panels At Annual Clinic

Journalists will take over the University campus next Thursday when high school and OU journalism students will meet for the annual press conference. The conference will start at 3 p. m.

Twenty-four high school students from five Omaha public high schools, two Council Bluffs high schools, and Fremont Senior High will take part in six panel discussions during the afternoon.

Omaha University journalism students will act as moderators on the six panels. Those participating will be Bill Beindorff, Joyce Erdkamp, Joanne Larkin, Bob Peck, Burt McMillan and Dan Langevin.

A Vocations Seminar at 5:30 p. m. in the auditorium will be open to all University students interested in careers in journalism. Professional men from the surrounding area will hold simultaneous discussions in six fields of journalism.

Ray Clark, director of special events at radio station WOW, will speak at the banquet at 6:15 p. m. in the Student Center. His topic will be "The Ten Top News Stories of 1952." Gateway awards also will be given winners of the newspaper contest at the dinner.

Co-sponsors of the conference are the University of Omaha and the University Press Club. Bill Beindorff, president of the Press Club, and Clifford Ellis, journalism instructor, are in charge of the event.

Cadet Wing CO Picks New Staff

The complete cadet staff for OU's AF-ROTC wing has been announced by wing commander Cadet Capt. Glen Gowen. The remainder of the staff was announced last week.

In addition to the staff positions, five cadets have been promoted, according to Maj. Robert Whaley, commandant of cadets.

James Sweetman has been promoted to the rank of cadet first lieutenant. Larry Fargher has been promoted to cadet staff sergeant and Rodney Cosner has become a cadet sergeant.

Newly promoted corporals are Donald Hoefker and Loren Means.

The University will award 45 degrees and four associate titles during informal ceremonies.

Guests at the dinner will include husbands or wives of the graduates, the University Board of Regents and Administrative Council. Deans of the five colleges and the Graduate Division will present candidates for degrees. President Milo Bail will confer the degrees.

Each graduate will be given tickets so that friends and members of his family may attend the ceremony following the dinner.

Candidates follow:
College of Adult Education: Arthur E. Helligso, Bachelor of General Education.

College of Business Administration: J. Philip Barber, James F. Beard, Marlin Kent Constance, Carl L. Eby, Earl C. True and Laverne August Westling, Bachelor of Science in Business Administration.

College of Education: Paula King Adams, Nick Z. Adzick, Jr., George Lyons Barbour, Dorothy Schmidt Bell, Evelyn Frances Bowerman, Mabel Boyles, Opal Fay Dodds, Carl Ludwig Fixley, Emma Chamberlin Lanka, Marilyn Groff Larsen, Jack H. Meisel, and Robert M. Ross, Bachelor of Science in Education.

College of Applied Arts and Sciences: Alyce Mae Beachler, Joan S. Clawson, Jo Anne Strobel and Mary Ann Uphoff, Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.

Roscoe H. Brady, James C. Egan, Jr., Arnold T. Erickson, Robert E. Heins, Robert Lewis King, Howard Louis Peters, Patrick J. Pomphrey, William Edward Snead, and Robert E. Tierney, Bachelor of Science with a Major in Military Science.

Myrtle Saf, Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

A. Fred Bridgman, Joseph M. Scheibhofer, and Charles Eric Watson, Bachelor of Science with a Major in Writing.

College of Arts and Sciences: Robert F. Cahill, Arle R. Edmundson, David Wrew Gamert, Frank Menolascino, Gloria Olderg, Earl G. Skogman, John Sterba, Jr., and Frank W. Thomas, Jr., Bachelor of Arts.

Graduate Division: Marie V. Meriwether, Master of Science in Education.

Associate Titles: Gerald Showman and Carl L. Eby, Associate in Business Administration, marketing; Joseph M. Scheibhofer, Associate in Applied Arts and Sciences, journalism; and Sarah M. Stupell, Associate in Education.

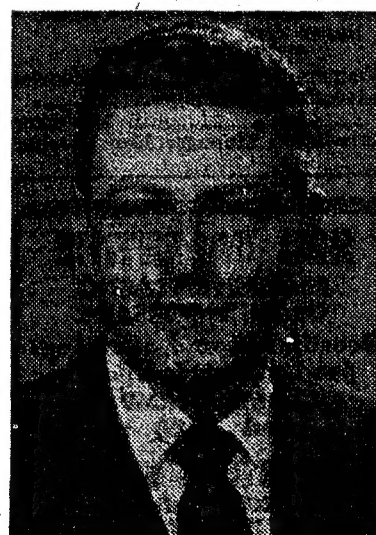

Brewer Will Hold Tryouts for Choir

Openings in three choral organizations have been announced by Richard Brewer, director of vocal music. Because many people have inquired about membership during second semester, Brewer will enlarge the University choir; men's chorus and women's chorus to accommodate new members.

Tryouts will be held Tuesday, Jan. 20, in Room 382 from 3 to 5 p. m. For additional information, students may contact Brewer.

Debaters Vie Today

Four University women are participating in the Kansas State Teachers College Debate Tourney today and tomorrow. Those who are debating at the Pittsburg, Kans., tournament are Jean Bednar, Sharon Erdkamp, Marie Jipp and Arlyss Welch.

Dr. Clark . . . one of three faculty directors.

the two are pursued throughout the play.

In a series of disguises, Billy continues to court Hope, while persuading a night club proprietress, Reno Sweeney, to keep Sir Evelyn busy.

Billy and Moon are finally apprehended, the entire mix-up is corrected, and the play ends happily.

Five of the hit songs from the Cole Porter script are "You're the Top," "Anything Goes," "All Through the Night," "Blow, Gabriel, Blow" and "I Get a Kick Out of You."

Around Mexican Volcano Interests Adwers

Jack Adwers, superintendent of buildings and grounds, took a trip to Mexico during Christmas vacation and found that a favorite friend had died. He found his friend, Paricutin, a once-fierce volcano, quiet and barren.

When Adwers first visited Paricutin early in 1951, he found the volcano belching rock, fire and smoke. He was so impressed with the phenomenon that he decided to adopt the volcano as a hobby and follow its history.

"The eruptions were the most outstanding, spectacular thing I have ever seen," said Adwers.

Returning to Paricutin last December, he found the volcano dead. It grew up out of a Mexican cornfield in 1943 to a height of 3,300 feet and covered 22 square miles. In spreading it buried farms and whole villages. Now, Paricutin is plugged with 1,500 feet of rock and will never erupt again.

Problem Solver

At a meeting of the University Classics Club last Monday evening, an unclassic, un-Victorian incident occurred.

Meeting at a classic home, a maid brought in a coffee service set while Dr. Wilfred Payne, sponsor of the group, was speaking. The sterno in the flame warmer beneath the coffee server leaked, enveloping the whole service set with flaming sterno. The group sat unalarmed, listening to the speaker. Finally, when the flames had grown higher and threatened the coffee table, Dr. Payne turned to Dick Frohnen and asked what should be done.

Frohnen was baffled and could offer no explanation. Dr. Payne, in a distinguished tone of voice, suggested, "Let's take it out and throw it in the snow."

This accomplished, the two returned and Dr. Payne continued his Victorian discourse.

Insure Anything

ROTC officers' blouses don't sport any "Pendleton" labels, but they are tagged with one which proclaims that the blouse is insured by Lloyd's of London for moth damage.

Lloyd's, a corporation which operates all over the world, insures against almost any risk, whether it be the safety of an opera singer's voice or the birth of twins to apprehensive parents.

Survey Shows College Value

If you've been wondering what's to become of you, you should read "They Went to College." Written by Ernest Havemann and Patricia Salter Westin, the recent book is a result of a survey of college graduates taken by Time Magazine in 1947.

The book explains what career opportunities exist for graduates, what type of graduate is most likely to succeed and what becomes of the former coed.

At the time of the survey, students were studying everything from Aristotle to zoology, and bait casting to tearoom service. Graduates were earning a median income of $4,689, whereas for all American men at work that year the median income was less than half of that, $2,200.

Grads Get Wealthier

College graduates earn considerably more money than their non-college colleagues job for job. The degree adds more earning power for the Old Grad, be he an executive, mechanic or airplane pilot.

Graduates seem to get wealthier as they grow older, while the average man begins declining after 45. Among grads, the very oldest group, 50-and-overs, have the best incomes. In the general population, the 50-and-overs are losing ground fast to younger men.

For many coeds, it would appear, college amounts to an education for spinsterhood. Of all adult U. S. women at the time of the survey, only 13 out of one hundred were unmarried. But of our women college graduates, 31 out of one hundred were unmarried.

Coeds Marry Above Level

Sociologists explain that there is a wide tendency for women to seek to marry above their own level, while men seek to marry below. It may be that college women are too choosy to compete successfully in competition for husbands.

The Big Women on Campus, the type who spend most of their college careers dating and being social whirls, seem to have the best chance for marriage. The class of coeds whose chances are worst seem to be the Girls Who Just Sat There, the ones who weren't successful either scholastically or socially.

Brewer Builds Music Groups

"The definition of fun has been kicked around quite a bit, but in the field of vocal music, the most fun I ever had was singing in Carnegie Hall with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra and the Westminster Choir."

This is the statement made by Richard Brewer, director of vocal music at the University. He is new at OU this semester.

"One of the main objectives and purposes in coming to Omaha was to train a group which will be mentally and vocally able to sing great choral works with the Omaha Symphony," commented Brewer.

Music Varies

The type of music studied and sung this year by University groups varies from the early religious music to the lighter folk songs, dances, and Negro spirituals of America.

"It is the opinion of a great many that you have to be able to read music or have a great voice in order to sing in a choral group. I admit it is an advantage to be able to read music, but it is not a necessity. Some of us are blessed with great voices, but all of us have good voices."

Organizes Music Groups

"I would much rather have a group of forty people with good voices who have a serious desire, rather than have forty soloists who want to be heard."

"Of the members of the University choir, half are music majors, but only five are voice majors. The other members are students who are interested in singing and studying good choral music with the goal of public performance."

There are now five organized choir groups open to University students: the University Choir, forty mixed voices; College of Adult Education, 35 mixed voices; the Madrigal Group, 16 voices; the Women's Chorus, thirty voices; and the Men's Chorus, twenty voices.

Swan Song

This will probably seem like a dying gasp after a somewhat explosive year, but a summary of this past semester is in order.

From the standpoint of interest and enthusiasm, the relay to Crete will take the top position in a list of fall events. On Nov. 15 and 16, Omaha University really displayed the student and municipal spirit which will bring OU into its own.

Probably ranking second on this mythical list would come the student drive for stadium lights. The Gateway is proud to have spearheaded the drive, but it is unfortunate that the drive came at a time when the University could not afford the lights.

The by-product of the campaign, however, seems to have been the increased attendance at football games. After student interest was aroused, crowds increased until the Homecoming game drew more than 4,000 fans.

While on the subject of athletic crowds, why is it that the Fieldhouse fails to draw interested basketball fans? OU has one of the best athletic plants in this area, and yet it has never been filled for an Omaha U. event. Crowds this winter have been surprisingly small, considering the good record that Coach Virg Yelkin's team is compiling.

The old silence is back again! At most of the games the fans seem to be sitting on their hands.

Yet most of the games have been very interesting from the spectator standpoint. Does there have to be a campaign or drive before anyone gets interested in the team?

The past semester also saw one of the biggest boosts for Omaha and the University in many years. When the Arnold Air Society national convention was announced for Omaha, and the Angels Flight was adopted nationally, OU took a giant stride forward.

Another fine example of progress occurred when a Broadway musical comedy was selected to replace the Tom Tom Revue. This move shows the kind of thinking that should guide the University to so-called greener pastures.

My "tour of duty" has been an interesting one. A new "chief" takes over on Feb. 1. This is really my dying gasp...

Five Lambda Chi Actives Fly National Traveling Secretary to Vermillion, S. D.

Five members of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity Tuesday showed one of the group's national traveling secretaries the modern, if somewhat bumpy, way to travel.

The secretary arrived in Omaha from visiting the Kansas chapters. His next destination was South Dakota University in Vermillion. The local Lambda Chi's decided to rent two airplanes and fly him to Vermillion.

Two of the members, both licensed pilots, rented the planes and piloted them on the trip. Keith Williams and Tom Cochrane each piloted one of the light Cessna planes, with Ken Borchert, Ed. Marsh and Henry Bolack as passengers.

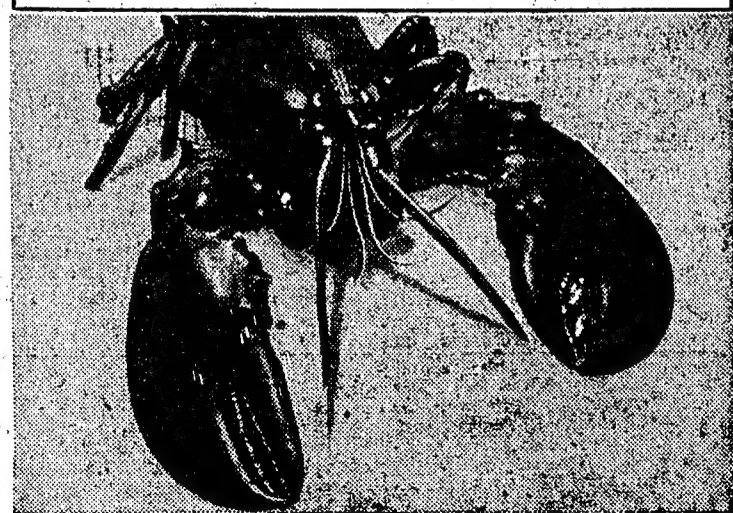

The planes left the municipal airport at about 1:30 Tuesday afternoon. Their attempt at formation flying fell through when one plane turned out to be faster than the other.

The flight was uneventful until the two planes reached Blair on the return trip. It was discovered that one plane was nearly out of gas, but the pilot decided to try and make it to Omaha. He made it with a little gas to spare.

As the two planes approached the municipal airport, it was discovered that one pilot was unable to receive landing instructions because of a dead radio. However, the runways were clear, and the landing was accomplished easily.

"Wet paint" signs around the danger areas are written in four other languages besides English. The warnings appear in French, German, Spanish and Swedish.

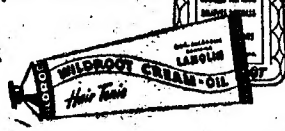

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

HERE'S a sad Lobster tale. Sheedy was really in hot water. His girl kept saying, "The Maine thing I don't like about you is the way you put your hair! Haven't you read about Wildroot Cream-Boil Hair Tonic? Non-alcoholic. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. Perfect for you 'claws you need Lanolin on that water-soaked hair." Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he looks slick. In fact, he's in salad with every girl on campus. So if you're net-tled about your messy hair, butter shell out 29¢ at any toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, "Your Hair's Best Friend." Teachers Crave Revenge After Early Season Defeat

Wayne State will invade the Omaha University maples Monday night as the Indians attempt to cop their second victory of the season over the Teachers.

The Red and Black fashioned a 70-56 decision on Dec. 15 on the Wayne home court.

Always a contender for honors in the Nebraska College Conference, the Teachers present a fast, sharp shooting aggregation.

Outcourt men are Don Tietgens and Mike Mallette who were the mainstays in the first encounter against the Omahans.

Carl Johnson and Roger Higgins give Wayne an abundance of height under the basket while Ted Lindberg is versatile as the fifth man.

Recently, Wayne threw a scare into Nebraska Wesleyan 69-66, the power in the NCC this campaign.

Mediocre Record

Both squads have tangled with Peru, the Indians having split a two-game series and Wayne having dropped their only outing.

The Teachers' record to date has not been overly impressive, but in time could develop into a potent threat.

Coach Virg Yelkin's charges have not been startling since the Christmas holidays, but with each game have added some measure of finesse.

Stellar guard work by Bob Mackie has been the shining light for the Indians. Averaging over 16 points a game, Mackie is slated to lead Omaha U. into the Wayne fray Monday night.

Pettit Injured
A shoulder injury has benched letterman Ralph Pettit but the smooth-working Indian forward should be ready to see plenty of action against Wyane and Northern State. Illness has sidelined sophomore Dick Davis but he is Coach Ernie Gorr and Omaha University indoor track fans can breathe easily again. The fleet-footed Joe Nalty will be around for another year.

It had been rumored around the campus that Nalty had quit school. His absence would have been a hard blow for the team.

Joe has been one of the outstanding stars on the OU track team for two years. He is expected to be at the peak of his career for this year's contests.

Along with the veterans, Gorr stated that he has many outstanding freshmen who have signed up for the coming season.

Gorr also stated that further information on this year's indoor track team will not be known until he has had a meeting with his future cindermen.

A team captain will be elected at Gorr's first weekly meeting with the boys.

ROTC's 62 to 35 basketball victory over Sig Ep is under protest.

The protest revolves around Bob Berigan. It was discovered that Berigan is not a full time student, since he is only carrying three credit hours in ROTC. The game will probably be replayed.

Bernie Lainson was the leader for the ROTC. He made 21 points. Bob Chapman led the Sig Ep's with 12 points.

Lambda Chi downed Delta Sig in the only other mural contest 40-24. Terry O'Donald was high man among the scorers, potting 21 points. Bob Chizum made half of the Delta Sig points.

Coach Virg Yelkin said Tuesday that the most improved basketball player is Lee Nelson, who has developed his shots as well as his defensive ability. Lee is hitting 45 per cent of his field shots. The team average is 34 per cent.

Senior Bob Rose leads the team at the free-shot line with 18 out of 22 completions for an 81 per cent average. Bob Moscrey also has a commendable 78 per cent average at the line.

Yelkin said that the success of the team is entirely up to the boys. "A team should progress as the season moves along, but the long Christmas vacation practically made two seasons. Two or three weeks layoff is bound to make a team rusty. A good example was the Iowa Central College game. The game was rough and slip-shod due to the lack of practice and condition," Yelkin stated.

A special commendation by Yelkin and "B" coach Darrell Mudra went to the reserve squad: Bill Graddy, Howard Baker, Tony Roth, John Cottrell and Don Hansen have already seen varsity action. Yelkin emphasized that many more would see action with the first team, and stated further that some may be pushed up to a permanent varsity position.

The Indians have one of the youngest basketball squads in history. Of the 24 men on both teams, three are seniors, five are juniors, 10 are sophomores, and six are freshmen.

Constitutions and programs will be read and discussed for next semester January 16, in room 19 at a 2:30 meeting of the Water Sports Club.

The Omaha University Physical Education Majors Club has been officially recognized. They have received their charter from the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The 26 members of the new club are also active with the Nebraska Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The present officers are; President Larry Johnson, Vice-President Jim Spencer, Secretary John Swanson and Treasurer Charlie Phillips.

The rising club has set up committees on program, publicity and entertainment.

The P. E. Club has already had one play night among the members at the Fieldhouse, and are now planning to have a play night with faculty members as guest-participants.

They are thinking of having a co-educational play night sometime in the future to provide entertainment for both the Men's and Women's Physical Education Departments.

The Annual Omaha Women's Bowling Tournament will be held Feb. 7, 8, 14 and 15, at Kelley's Bowlatorium at 16th and Harney Sts.

Fees per person for teams are $3.25. Doubles and singles will be $2.25 per event. Pat Cosford has information concerning the tournament and the entry blanks.

Pat urges all who participated in the Omaha University Women's Intramural Bowling Tournament to consider playing in this tournament.

Panhellenic Council Plans Open Bidding

The Panhellenic Council has approved an open bidding season to take the place of the regular second semester rushing.

All University women interested in joining a Greek social sorority are asked to sign up in the Dean of Students office Feb. 2 to 16. "Open bidding will begin Feb. 2 and last until Mar. 2," said Jean Salladay, Panhellenic Council president.

There will be no rush parties connected with open bidding. Sorority members will contact the women who are interested in joining the social organizations. All contacting must be done on the campus.

The sororities may pledge new members any time during the month of open bid, but there will be no pledging after Mar. 2.

The social sororities on the University of Omaha campus are Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Sigma Kappa and Zeta Tau Alpha. All groups have a quota of 60 members. Those women who participated in the fall rush season and did not receive a bid from either their first or second preference are eligible for consideration in this open bidding plan.

Lambda Chi Alpha Plans Mardi Gras

Lambda Chi Alpha will sponsor their annual "Mardi Gras" dance, Feb. 13, at the Livestock Exchange ballroom.

This year the dance will be presented in an entirely different fashion. All couples must come in costume, preferably as famous duos. Prizes will be awarded the couple with the most original costumes and another prize will be given the person with the most original costume.

Besides ballroom dancing, the evening will also be spent in a variety of games which have been planned by the fraternity.

During intermission the Lambda Chi Alpha Omaha Chapter candidate for the National Convention will be announced. The Lambda Chi's will select a candidate for the title from each of the sororities and one non-Greek candidate. The winner will reign as queen of the Mardi Gras for the evening. The final candidate will be voted upon by the fraternity.

Vivian Cotton from Alpha Xi Delta was the 1952 Queen of the Mardi Gras.

Bill Beindorff Heads University Press Club

Bill Beindorff was elected president of the Omaha University Press Club at the last weekly meeting. Bob Peck was appointed vice-president at this time.

Beindorff replaces Frank Schuchart.

Joyce Erdkamp was appointed chairman of the committee for decorations for the High School Press Day banquet. Barbara Magnuson and Bob Rasmussen are helping her.

Drama Honorary Elects Tom Myers President

Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity at the University of Omaha, has installed their new officers for next semester.

The new officers are Tom Meyer, president; Jack Dunlevy, vice-president, and Barbara Zimmerman, secretary.

Plans were also arranged for an active program in dramatics during the course of the next semester.

In 1943, Victory Gardeners in the faculty lines were in there plowing during the war years. Comments about their new-found tasks included: Roderic Crane, "I'm not concerned with what gets in my hair, but I am worried about the hares that get into my garden." Dr. James Earl would have a garden "inspite of limited space." Dr. Leslie Garlough, "an old hand at the game, would raise his 'scientifically.' Although John Kurtz intended to have a small garden, he would raise plenty of beans, peas and corn."

ISA Picks Maie Day Committees

Twenty-five members of Independent Students Association gave one of their members, Conrad Knutson, a send-off to the Marines, at their last meeting.

During their regular meeting, plans were made for the Maie Day float and skit. These ideas will be turned into the Executive Committee before the week of Feb. 1.

Mary Rose Richardson has been mentioned as ISA's candidate for the "Rose of Delta Sig."

The National Independent Students Association is holding their annual convention April 21, 22 and 23 at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana.

Pi Kap Pledges Plan Party Tomorrow Night

Pi Kappa Alpha pledges and their dates will honor their actives and their dates at a party tomorrow night at Camp Brewster.

Gene Anderson, pledge president, is in charge of the party. The couples will spend the evening dancing and eating, and a "Truth or Consequences" game will be played by the actives for the benefit of the pledges.

Sponsors for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gorr, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pfisterer.

Orchesis Will Present Annual Show April 18

Orchesis, national modern dance group, will present an annual show April 18. The show will be held in the auditorium.

Orchesis was reactivated on the OU campus two years ago. Since that time the group has participated in the halftime ceremonies in several football games in addition to other activities.

IFC Will Determine Spring Rush Rules

Second semester rushing will be the main topic to be considered at the Interfraternity Council meeting Monday. Council President Howard Olson said that rushing rules and deadlines will be discussed.

Olson also said that the Goodwill Industries has called the University and asked for fraternity men to drive trucks. Last year OU fraternity men helped in a similar drive.

Olson added that the Greek Week plans are moving ahead, but that the committees probably will not meet again until after final examinations are over. Olson is head of the Greek Week activities.

Formals Highlight Spring Dance Attire

By Lorrie Lemen

With the coming of the second semester, many formal dances have been planned. Dotted around the ballroom floor are many new formal creations.

The ever popular net dresses are again in demand this year. Layers of a full net skirt with a combination of satin, velvet or taffeta bodice are seen in both full length and short ballerina lengths.

This year, however, the ballerina length dresses have been more in demand. Shoes in limes and satins are dyed to match the predominating color of the formal. Even the fellows seem to prefer the ballerina length wear!

A very practical idea for evening wear this year are taffeta or net evening skirts with separate blouses which can be combined later with other skirts to make two different outfits. Evening blouses can be made or bought in velvets, jerseys and satins to match the different outfits of the co-ed.

In color selection, a very popular favorite is white. For summer and spring wear, soft shades of pastel colors, however, are preferred.

With so many formals being planned in the coming months, it might be well for the co-ed to think of her wardrobe.

Devil Dance, Jan. 29, First Event of 1953

The main attraction on the January schedule of events is the annual Alpha Xi Delta Devil Dance. The dance is slated for Jan. 29 at the Peony Park Ballroom, from 9 to 12 midnight.

Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will play for all the Greeks and their dates.

During intermission, King Satan, 1953, will be presented. King Satan will be chosen from members of each of the fraternities and will be voted upon by each couple attending the dance. Last year's King Satan was Dick Beem, Pi Kappa Alpha.

The ballroom will be decorated in a Devil theme with a predominating color scheme of black and red. The bookstore window will be decorated with silhouettes of each of the candidates for "Satan." The candidates will be announced in the next edition of the Gateway.

Syntha Judd is chairman of the dance. Committee heads include, Gloria Dunaway, decorations; Barbara Magnuson, entertainment; Joyce Miller, gifts; Jacqueline Moore, invitations; Lorrie Lemen and Jerry Kelly, decorations.

Sponsors for the dance are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Crane, Mr. and Mrs. C. Eugene Hampton and Major and Mrs. Robert Whaley.

Phi Ep's Install Spring Officers

Phi Epsilon Pi installed officers for the coming semester Sunday evening at their regular weekly meeting.

The newly appointed officers are Martin Nearensberg, frater superior; Harry Wise, frater vice-superior; Fred Kolm, recording secretary; Dave Belzer, treasurer; and Bob Rubenstein, quarterly representative.

Superior Nearensberg announced the committee chairman for the coming semester. Starting with this month, each social chairman will be in charge of only one month's affairs. Important committee appointments are Iannua dance, Maynard Tadelman; Maie Day, Norman Goldenberg; Brotherhood Week, Hugo Kahn and Maynard Tadelman.

Highlight of last weekend for the Phi Ep's was the "Shack Shuffle" sponsored by Alpha Xi Delta. The couples spent the evening dancing and eating, followed by a tobogganing party.

If you've brushed against the wet paint in the halls, it probably isn't your fault, unless you're a foreign language major.

Frederiksen Appoints Committee Chairmen

Permanent committee chairmen were appointed for Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society. The committees were appointed by society president Barbara Frederiksen.

The group met Tuesday in a dinner meeting in Room 100. Chairmen chosen were senior Jim Townsend, program, and alumna Lucia Grove, social; and Tom Townsend, publicity.

William T. Utley is faculty adviser for the group.
